

Why Do I Have To Die

Why Do I Have To Die - Can genetics find a 'cure' for ageing and, therefore, dying, or will humans, like other organisms, always be at the mercy of nature? By Tim Radford I know this question been asked alot and I don't like going to church but I understand the god on the cross thing but WHY I just break down nd cry every ...We die naturally because our cells die. After they've done their job, billions of cells in your body die each day and make way for new cells. Why do people have to die? If we just die then what is the point of life? I haven't thought much about this until I lost a good friend of mine a few years ...
